7.1.4 Describe the institutional efforts/initiatives in providing an inclusive environment i.e., tolerance and harmony towards cultural, regional, linguistic, communal social economic and other diversities.

PSN Engineering College provides an inclusive environment for everyone with tolerance and harmony towards cultural, regional,   linguistic, communal social-economic and other diversities.

College admission policies play a key role in shaping diverse student population. In our college the admission process is purely based on merit. Thus the process helps in democratic functioning of the institution. It also renders equality of opportunity. Our college has implemented fixed fees structure as prescribed by the University for all Graduate Programmes. The students are required to pay equal tuition fees and other charges.

Our college has strict code of conduct for students, teachers as well as other employees irrespective of their social, cultural, regional, linguistic, communal social-economic and other diversities. A set of rules & regulations are implemented to maintain discipline inside the campus and to protect the prestige and standards of the college. The college has uniform / dress code for students focus on their studies. Students should put up a minimum attendance of 75% in all subjects of the semester. All students are expected to follow and strive to achieve institutional goals of excellence in education and behave in a manner befitting a professional course student.

In our college we organize different sports and cultural activities to create an environment of togetherness and promote harmony towards each other.

We celebrate national days like Republic day, Independence Day, Labour Day with zest and fervor we commemorate days like Environment day, Yoga day, Women's day to create environmental, Health and social awareness among the students. Tree plantation programmes, blood donation camps, Swacchata Abhiyan are organized every year to promote a sense of social welfare amongst the students.

Different events are celebrated with jubilation respecting diverse cultures in our country. The students participate in all events with great enthusiasm. All these events establish positive interaction among the students of different social and cultural background.

Our college has various grievances redressed cell. The students are free to communicate directly to the faculty, HOD and Principal. A suggestion box is also put up for student's convenience. Anti ragging committee in our college ensure completely ragging free environment and safety of girl students in our college. Internal compliant committee deals with various issues of our students and provides Redressal mechanism for student's complaints if any.

Thus our college is taking initiatives for providing the best environment to maintain the religious, social and communal harmony.
